DEUTSCHLAND ARRIVES SAFELY IN AMERICAN HARBOR
SUCCESSFULLY ELUDES WATCHING DREADNAUGHTS

Captain Koenig and Crew All Well and Elated Over Making Trip.

Subsea Merchantman Carried Clearance Papers From Bremen to Baltimore.

(Associated Press Cable.)
New London, Conn., Nov. 1.—Germany's first commercial submarine, the Deutschland, arrived here early today, completing her second voyage through the warships of Great Britain and France on both sides of the Atlantic.

Under Captain Paul Koenig, who is in command during her first trip to Baltimore, the Deutschland left Bremen on October 10 and tied up at a berth prepared for her here at 1:35 o'clock this morning.

The captain and the crew of four officers and twenty-five men were in excellent health and high spirits over the success of their second venture.

The Deutschland carried clearance papers for "Baltimore or any American port."

The History

Associated Press Dispatch.

New London, November 1.—The Deutschland made its first appearance in American waters at 1:45 of the morning of July 9. Her voyage of approximately 4,100 miles, made without a stop at any port, established a record for craft of this kind.

On the first trip she brought a cargo of dye stuffs, the value of which was estimated at from $500,000 to $600,000.

In speaking of the trip, Captain Koenig said that except for unusual rough weather the trip had been eventful. The Deutschland submerged for but 120 miles, when near the coast of England.

The submarine's cargo consists of 6 tons of dye stuffs, medicines, and chemicals. A return cargo, consisting mainly of crude rubber and sugar supplies valued at more than a half million dollars, has been ready at the pier for several weeks, and it is expected the boat will leave for Germany in about a week.

The Postoffice Department is prepared to accept a proposal submitted by Count Von Bernstorff that mails between this country and Germany be transported in merchant submarines. Announcement to this effect was made today by Otto Praeger, second assistant postmaster general.

It is proposed that not more than 50 pounds of first class mail be sent on each submarine departing from Germany.

BRITISH CASUALTIES

(Associated Press Cable.)

London, November 1.—Premier Asquith, in reply to a written question in the House of Commons, said that the number of British citizens killed and wounded by the enemy was: killed, or dead of wounds, 589; drowned, 3,014; injured, 1,693.

DEATH OF BOELKE, AVIATOR HERO,
FILLS ALL GERMANY WITH GRIEF

LIEUT. BOELKE AND GERMAN AEROPLANE BROUGHT DOWN IN RUSSIA

Captain Boelke, the famous German aviator and one of Germany's most popular war heroes, in the course of an air flight came into collision with another aeroplane and was killed, according to a Berlin dispatch received in London by way of Amsterdam. His machine landed within the German lines. The day before Captain Boelke had shot down his fortieth aeroplane.

A Paris newspaper on October 18 reported that Boelke had been severely wounded by a shell from a French anti-aircraft gun. Since then, however, his name has been mentioned in the German official statements.

Captain Boelke was the most spectacular figure among all the thousands of aviators flying at the front in Europe. He seemed to bear a charmed life, and as recently as September it was reported that he had escaped almost certainly death five different times when his aeroplanes were practically shot from under him.

In June it was reported that he had been killed in an air battle with Roger Ribiers, a French aviator, over the Verdun battlefield. This report was corrected a few days later by Victor Chapman, the New York aviator who recently lost his life while flying with the Franco-American Flying corps.

Boelke is shown in the picture with a German aeroplane brought down in Russia. He started in the Imperial Flying corps as an observer, later becoming a pilot. His steady eye, sure nerves and courage soon sent him to the fighting detachment of his service, where his duties were to meet and fight off the French and English battleplanes and reconnaissance machines. In this he was more successful than any other aviator. He always flew alone, managing his machine and its gun by himself.

Boelke was a native of Dessau, and took up aviation in peace times as a sport. When he was called out by the war he entered the flying service. He had filled a very large place in Germany's war imagination, and his death has brought universal grief to all parts of the empire. The emperor and the military authorities had singled out Boelke many times for recognition and reward. He wore the iron cross.

for delivery on out-of-the-state contracts. It was reported that in the Pittsburgh district coal cars are being used for the transportation of iron and steel to the seaboard, and that in Michigan such cars are being used to handle the sugar beet crop.

Cleveland coal dealers declared today that only 90 cars of coal was received in that city yesterday in place of the 750 normally received.

To further complicate the fuel problem, the East Ohio Gas Co., to-day quit furnishing gas to factories in the Cleveland district. Ninety percent of Cleveland factories were reported to have a short supply of coal, and it was said many would be forced to close down or curtail operations unless relief comes.

Because of the inability to get coal contracted for the city, the Columbus garbage disposal plant was closed down today. A delivery of coal was expected later in the day.

City officials said the municipal light plant and water works were almost out of coal. Should the shortage continue, operators and dealers say the price of soft coal may reach $10 a ton this winter.

NO RELIEF IN SIGHT

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Columbus, Nov. 1.—There appeared to be no relief in sight today for the coal shortage situation in Ohio, and many factories over the state were reported to be operating on a hand-to-mouth basis on coal supply.

In an effort to get their cars back on their own lines in the coal fields, some of the railroads were reported to have placed an embargo on coal and cars to some of the transcontinental railroads.

As a result, some of the Ohio coal dealers reported that they were buying coal from Indiana and Illinois for delivery on out-of-the-state contracts. It was reported that in the Pittsburgh district coal cars are being used for the transportation of iron and steel to the seaboard, and that in Michigan such cars are being used to handle the sugar beet crop.

JURY ACQUITS COPELAND

Black was shot in his room in a hotel at Marshall, Texas, February 3, 1915, while Copeland, cashier of a Marshall bank and other men were calling to ask him to cease lecturing in the town.

Whether the state will insist upon trial of George Ryan and George Tier, both also charged with murder in connection with the killing of Black, probably will not be known until December term of court.

CLAIM OF SUCCESS FOR BOTH

Berlin Announces Victory to the Southwest of Kronstadt.

Russians Claim Success in the Lemberg Advance.

By Associated Press Dispatch.
London, November 1.—Important successes for both the Teutonic and Roumanian armies are claimed in today's dispatches relative to the fighting along the Roumanian-Trajanian frontier.

Berlin announces an Austro-German victory southwest of Kronstadt where Roumanian positions west of the Predeal road have been captured together with ten cannon and seventeen machine guns.

Southeast of Rothernthurm Pass, also, Teutonic troops are reported to be making progress.

A Bucharest dispatch received in Rome declared the Austro-German forces have retired from the region of Campulung, in northern Roumania, pursued over the frontier by Roumanian troops which wiped out four hostile battalions.

Further Russian attacks on the troops of Prince Leopold defending the approaches to Lemberg have been repulsed. Berlin declares.

It records heavy losses for the Russians in five successive assaults on the positions recently won by the Germans.

On the Somme front there has been renewal of intensive fighting. The French again expected pressure between Sallly-Sallies and Les Boeufs, advancing last night, according to Paris, in the vicinity of the last named place.

The Germans were on the offensive in this section, but, Paris reports they were defeated in a violent engagement.

British troops on the Struma front in Macedonia, have pushed further into the Bulgarian line, capturing the village of Barakli-Azuma, according to Paris. Three hundred prisoners were taken by the British.

In Pursuit

The Bucharest official report on the campaign along the Transylvanian front declares that in the Jiu Valley, where the Austro-German force has been falling back for several days the Roumanians are continuing the pursuit and have captured more than 600 men and large quantities of war material.

In Galicia, the Russian official state admits superior Teutonic forces pressed back the Russians in the region of Brezany in one sector of the front where heavy fighting is in progress.

LANSING ASKS FOR THE FACTS

Seeks Light on Sinking of Steamer Marina.

WIRES LONDON AND BERLIN

Secretary of State, by Direction of the President, Asks For Information Concerning the Destruction of British Freighter by German Submarine—Six Americans Lose Lives In the Attack.

Washington, Nov. 1.—After receiving unofficial information that six Americans had lost their lives by the sinking of the British steamship Marina, President Wilson communicated with Secretary of State Lansing and directed that all possible haste be taken in obtaining the facts concerning the sinking of the vessel.

Secretary Lansing informed the president that, in addition to asking the American embassy in London for information, informal inquiries had been sent to the German government.

While it was made clear here that no action would be taken pending the collection of all the facts, it was indicated that the view was taken that the situation contained grave possibilities.

Secretary Lansing stated that he was not in possession of sufficient facts on which to base a judgment of the case. While preliminary reports have indicated that the Marina was sunk without warning, additional information on that point is desired.

When President Wilson left Long Branch he gave directions that he be kept thoroughly in touch with the situation during his trip to Buffalo and New York city.

Germany has been asked to furnish the United States with any information the imperial government may have concerning the sinking by submarines of the British steamers Marina and Rowanmore. The request was forwarded, it became known, through the American embassy at Berlin. It is understood the state department took this step without waiting for full reports from British sources and survivors of the ships because it was considered desirable to assemble at the earliest possible moment complete information, particularly regarding the Marina, on which several American horse tenders apparently lost their lives. The request is informal and is intended in no sense as an intimation that German submarines have violated international law or the pledges of the German government to the United States.

HERE IT IS

(By American Press)

Copenhagen, Nov. 1.—Norway's long expected reply to Germany's submarine protest was forwarded to Berlin, according to a dispatch from Christiania. Events of mighty importance depend upon the negotiations between the two countries, for they may result in the entrance of another nation, Norway, into war. It is understood that Norway's contention is that she is accorded Germany the same treatment as other belligerents. Germany's protest was against a Norwegian decree barring German submarines from Norway's territorial waters.

Immediately following the issuance of the Norwegian decree Germany began an active U-boat campaign against Norwegian shipping. During the past ten days it is estimated, about fifteen Norwegian vessels have been sent to the bottom. Germany's attitude is that Norway took a pre-judged stand and that the ships destroyed were carrying contraband to England and Russia.

RESERVE ACT IS BIG HELP

Unprecedented Growth of Banking Resources Shown.

PLACED AT $6,500,000,000

Comptroller of Currency Issues Statement Showing Vast Increases in Banking Assets, Available Capital and Deposits the Past Three Years. Wide Distribution of Reserves Heretofore Piled Up in the East.

Washington, Nov. 1.—In a statement issued by the comptroller of the treasury, the growth of the country's banking resources since passage of the federal reserve act is put at $6,500,000,000.

This record is declared to be without a parallel in this or any other country.

The figures cover the period from July, 1913, a few months before the act was passed, to July, 1916, including nearly all of the first two years of the European war.

"This stupendous increase in banking assets and available capital," says the statement, "has been accompanied by an unprecedented quickening, which has amounted in many cases to an outburst of business activity in every state and in practically every part of every state. Coincidentally there has been a marked reduction in interest charges."

The increase in resources, it is declared, is greater than the total resources of the country's national banks a little more than a decade ago. In New England the three years' increase has been 21 per cent; in the eastern states, 32; in the south, 12; in the middle states, 32, and in the west, 31.

Deposits since the reserve act went into force have made an unprecedented jump also. Their total increase is put at $6,250,000,000, or 31 per cent, nearly as great as the resources increase. In New England it was 22 per cent, in the east 39, the south 18, the middle states 26, the west 37 and the Pacific states 19.

Banks and trust companies are lending $3,250,000,000 more than they were three years ago, the statement says.

Emphasis is laid upon a distinct and growing tendency towards decentralization and distribution throughout the country of "excessive reserves" heretofore piled up in eastern cities. This has been especially true during the last few months. In the four and one-half months from May 1 to Sept. 12, this year, deposits in New York city decreased nearly $250,000,000, increasing heavily meanwhile in country banks. Ohio gained $317,000,000, or 27 per cent.

FROM OUT PAST

(By American Press)

Cleveland, Nov. 1.—A negro, arrested in Philadelphia on a charge of holding up and robbing a Philadelphia, confessed to police that he was the slayer of Attorney William L. Rice, killed on Euclid Heights, Cleveland, just a short distance from his mansion, Aug. 5, 1910. A reward of $5,000 was offered for the capture of the murderer and his subsequent conviction. Over $20,000 was spent by detectives in this and European countries, but of little avail.

The theory of the Cleveland police is founded upon the alleged confession of Vincenzo Pelato, now serving a five-year term in the Ohio penitentiary for complicity in the murder. It told how Pelato and two other men, unnamed, attacked and killed Rice when he halted them in their escape from a hen roost they had robbed.

DETROIT HOUSING

Detroit, Nov. 1.—Housing conditions and rent charges in Detroit were characterized as "rotten and unwarranted" in a printed survey of local conditions made public by the Detroit board of commerce. Steady demand for modest homes and flats caused property owners to systematically raise the rent for all of their buildings, the report declares.

What About Coal?

One of the most alarming conditions which the people of this section of the nation, especially the people of Ohio, have had for some time is the coal famine.

The most disheartening feature in connection with it all is the practically conceded fact that there is no excuse for the existence of the distressing conditions.

There is no shortage of coal, there is no labor trouble at mines. The Black Diamonds are dug out of the earth in practically all of the Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia mines at the usual rate and carried to the railroad sidings for shipment to the millions who will soon, unless relief comes actually suffering for fuel.

In many parts of the industrial sections manufacturing has already been paralyzed and men in addition to being asked to pay a prohibitive price for coal are thrown out of work and their earning capacity cut off.

It does seem that, with all the costly governmental machinery which the nation and the state have created and keeping, the condition of the common carriers now reputed to be short of cars, should never have come about.

Reports and figures as to number, kind and location of coal cars has been called for by the national and state commissions. The red tape is being slowly unwound or at least it announced that a start has been made.

But in the meantime people suffer and winter is upon us. Just what is to be the outcome of this latest jacking up in the price of a necessary of life it is difficult to say, but relief from some quarter must come soon or all other living problems will pale into insignificance by comparison with this last one.

There is no substitute for coal and no doing without it, either.

Hallowe'en Depredations

It is a matter of regret that some maliciously inclined persons were able to take advantage of Hallowe'en to gratify their inclination to wantonly destroy the property of other people.

The outrageous depredations committed could by no stretch of the most boundless charity be excused on the ground that it was simply fun—a prank of the careless young folks. The line of demarcation which divides "fun" and criminal vandalism, is a clear one. There is no mistaking the place where amusement and even riotous pleasure stops and down right evil and viciousness commences.

Really the outrages committed throughout the city, Tuesday night especially, should not be allowed to drop with the explanation that outrageous as it was, it was hallowe'en and we must expect such things.

Some of the acts of vandalism were a down right crime, the outgrowth of a criminal intent to do injury and the perpetrators should be hunted down just the same as any other evil doers and punished severely.

Some of the most beautiful and attractive homes in the city were visited and laid waste by vandals operating under the cloak of an occasion which should bring only pleasure and inspire the most beautiful sentiments and kindly thoughts.

Our authorities make a mistake in passing these acts by after their occurrences and devoting their efforts to preventing a repetition of the outrages.

Prevention is all right but in cases like those of Tuesday night, a little after effect will serve a dual purpose for good.

Hallowe'en revels are one thing and crime is another and time is no different when committed on Hallowe'en than it is committed on any other occasion.

Blessings Come Disguised

That which, at the time of its occurrence, seems a misfortune, almost invariably results in benefit.

Blessings often come in disguise, but numerous instances which have proven the truth of that assertion have not served to remove the disguise which blessings assume nor even to create a confidence in human beings that almost everything that happens is for the best no matter how our narrow view, which includes only the immediate present, causes it to appear.

That other story now going the rounds about the Irish aborigine is in point. This particular son of Erin, as the story goes, had a job as janitor—a job with a great amount of work and very little pay. He was unable to either read or write and eventually lost his job as janitor on that account.

Later on he drifted into contracting, and his native ability enabled him to make a success of it. He became very wealthy and going to the bank to negotiate a loan for a large sum he was asked to sign some papers. When the amazed banker asked him, in view of the success he had made of life, what he would have been if he could read and write, the wily Irishman replied—a janitor.

That was true too. Circumstances, apparently adverse had opened up the opportunity for his ability.

There is a world of wholesome philosophy in that little story. Frequently people would drift along in minor positions perfectly content if conditions did not compel a change.

That which appears at the time to be the very worst reverse that could occur is nearly always the best thing for us.

Barboursville, W. Va.—The mystery that has for years surrounded the haunted house on the hill back of here has been solved as a result of Green Simpkins, a Logan county miner, his wife and his six children moving into the house.

Peculiar noises have emanated from the building at night and for months weird stories have been told of the wreaths holding carnival there.

Simpkins, a stranger, didn't know the house was "haunted." Mrs. Simpkins had occupied the place only a short time when the mysterious sounds terrified her.

She took a gun and went upstairs, where she found the cause of the noise in the maneuvers of a dozen black-snakes that had taken charge of that part of the building. She was so frightened she dropped the gun and screamed for help. Two men passing heard the screams and they entered and gave the snakes a battle. It was an hour before all were killed with clubs and stones.

CAN'T KEEP BOY OUT OF WAR.

American Youth Resists All Efforts to Send Him Home.

London.—Norman Bruce Wallis, an eighteen-year-old American from New Orleans, enlisted as a private in the British army some months ago. Three attempts have been made by his family, through the American embassy, to get him back to the United States, but the lad is still in the army, fighting in France with a Scottish regiment.

When he was released from his regiment the first time and arrangements made for his passage to America he "missed the connection" by enlisting in another regiment. All the formalities for his release were again gone through, and an official of his embassy personally installed him in the home of some friends to await the sailing date of the boat in which his passage had been taken.

Wallis, however, returned to his old regiment, where, through a misunderstanding, he was arrested for desertion. Punishment was averted by official explanations, and today Wallis—now known as Norman Macgregor Bruce—is with his unit in France.

X-RAY VICTIM DECORATED.

Dr. Menard, Who Lost Two Fingers, Gets Legion of Honor.

Paris.—Dr. Menard of the Cochin hospital was decorated with the Legion of Honor as a recompense for the loss of two fingers by exposure to the X-ray in hospital work.

Dr. Menard, who has lost a finger from each hand, has accomplished admirable results in the location of projectiles in the bodies of wounded soldiers. The loss of his first finger did not deter Dr. Menard from following up his research work in the radiographic room. In the loss of his finger he learned that tissue cells exposed to the action of the X-ray are subjected to a localized disease of nutrition and in consequence harden and rapidly deaden.

Through Dr. Menard's experiments at the Cochin hospital a surgeon there was able a few days ago to locate and extract a shrapnel bullet lodged under the heart of a wounded soldier in ten minutes.

AGED PERSONS MARRY.

That Ends a Romance That Began Nearly Half a Century Ago.

Cleveland, O.—A romance which had its birth a half century ago in the public schools of Niles, but which was broken up by a lovers' quarrel, culminated at the parsonage of the Rev. T. Alfred Fleming when Mrs. Emma Davis and David Armstrong were married. Mrs. Armstrong is fifty-eight years old, her husband is sixty-two.

Armstrong and his bride were playmates in Niles fifty years ago. Almost constant association brought their two hearts together, and as years passed plans were made for their marriage. Armstrong was then twenty-one.

Then came the lovers' quarrel—a trivial disagreement—and the twain drifted apart. Armstrong married, so did his first love, and then nearly forty years passed away.

Death left them single again, and fate drew them together. Both settled in Cleveland scarcely a thousand yards apart. Their love dream of youth was resumed. And they began courting anew. The aged "newlyweds" will make their home in Cleveland.

IN SISTERHOOD 75 YEARS.

Mother Mary Gertrude Celebrates Her Diamond Jubilee.

Dubuque, Ia.—Mother Mary Gertrude of Mount Carmel, the mother house of the Sisters of Charity, has celebrated her "diamond jubilee." She has been Sister of Charity for seventy-five years and has been stationed at Dubuque for the past seventy-three years.

The aged woman was born in Ireland in 1827. In 1841 she entered the sisterhood, arriving in Dubuque a couple of years later, when the place was a village with less than 700 inhabitants.

All of the local clergy and many from points all over the middle west were present at the jubilee.

Although the aged mother has seen almost a century of service, she is still active and is possessed of a remarkably clear vision.

NEW TOWN ON AN OLD SITE

Dr. Boardman Delivers Address of Great Force on Community Building—Dr. Shepherd Speaks on Vital Theme Tonight—Full Program.

Few lectures ever given in this city have been fraught with the force and inspiration for community building as that delivered at the high school building, Tuesday night, by Dr. Boardman and those who heard him obtained a new vision of community welfare and service. He spoke at length on "Building a new town on the old Site."

Regardless of the numerous other attractions in the city, Dr. Boardman had a good audience, which manifested the deepest concern in every statement uttered. Prof. Lewis again delighted the audience with his splendid singing.

"Building up Washington as a Commercial Center" was the theme upon which Dr. Boardman spoke to a score of business men at the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday. He addressed a much larger number Wednesday noon.

Wednesday afternoon a good sized audience heard Mrs. Paulsen at the high school auditorium, where she spoke on "Systematic Co-operation in Home Life".

This evening at 5:30 the merchants and their employees meet for a conference at the Y. M. C. A., and will dine together. Dr. Boardman will address them on "Salesmanship."

At seven o'clock choral rehearsals on Oratorio choruses. At 7:30 Dr. Shepherd lectures on "City and County Politics," at the high school auditorium, and at the same hour Mrs. Paulsen addresses a mother's conference in another room of the high school.

Thursday at ten o'clock the Welfare Association meets for a conference, and at noon the merchants again meet and the usual dinner will be served.

At two o'clock Thursday afternoon Mrs. Paulsen and Dr. Shepherd speak on "Organized Activities of Young Women and Young Men".

At 5:30 the clerks and merchants again assemble for a conference and to dine together.

No admission is charged at any of the meetings.

SPORTSMEN ON HIKE
AFTER MR. RABBIT

With the first rays of the morning sun the boom of the sportsmen's guns awoke the echoes in Fayette county, and scores of men and boys armed with shotguns and with trained dogs, started the annual search for Mr. Rabbit, and a few reports indicate that rabbits are plentiful in most parts of the country.

Scores of farmers expressly forbid hunting on their farms, and the hunters are learning to respect the rights of the farm owners and at the same time keep themselves free from trouble.

It is absolutely necessary for the hunter to obtain a license when going forth to search out and kill the toothsome rabbit.

FORMER LOCAL MAN PUSHING BUSINESS

The Kansas City branch is the distributing point for 500 stores in that part of the United States, and Mr. Tharp is the head of the chief distributing house.

Other interesting features of Mr. Tharp's new program will be journeys through the Hawaiian islands, Spain, Norway and a reproduction of the day to day life at the United States Military Academy at West Point.

LAD SERIOUSLY HURT LAST NIGHT

While out with other boys enjoying Hallowe'en, Tuesday night about 7:30, Ernest Kier, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Kier was seriously injured when he ran against a guy wire bolding on the Odd Fellows' Temple corner, and was hurled into the street.

The lad was running at the time and the wire caught him under the chin in such a manner as to inflict serious injuries to his neck, and the impetus with which he was going hurled him violently into the street, where companions picked him up, finding him unconscious, and carried him to a nearby physician's office.

The lad was unconscious for sometime, and Wednesday morning it was believed he would be able to be about again within a few days, although, it was pointed out, there is a possibility of the injuries being of a permanent character.

Just a few days ago Noah Kier, brother of Ernest, was injured by the same guy wire, which comes down at the edge of the sidewalk.

HOWE SHOWS HAWAII AND WEST POINT

Sitting comfortably in a theater chair the spectators of the new Lyman H. Howe Travel Festival will view a most remarkable natural phenomena at the high school auditorium on Thursday evening, November 2nd. Theirs will not be the nerve-racking experience of the photographer who made the films, but the scene will be just as real and its interesting character just as impressive to the Howe traveler in the theater as it was to the Howe picture-maker on the edge of the crater of an erupting volcano in Hawaii.

With his camera at the very summit of the crater the photographer obtained "close up" views of the molten lava in its fiery boiling state. The pictures were made at midday and midnight so that one may see the vivid contrast that nature provides. These are the first reproductions of the kind in animated scenes and they mark a new point of realism for Howe presentations.

Other interesting features of Mr. Howe's new program will be journeys through the Hawaiian islands, Spain, Norway and a reproduction of the day to day life at the United States Military Academy at West Point.

Prevailing Drug Prices and the Cause

High prices are no longer confined to the luxuries of life, but they extend to the necessities as well.

Even the prices of food, clothing and drugs are not exempt from the new standard.

The effect of the European War on Drug Prices is familiar to all our customers.

The principal advances, however, have been on chemicals and rare drugs which are not produced in America.

For this reason we are forced to charge more for certain prescriptions, but in every case where this happens we are glad to give our customer a reason for the advance.

Our prices on staple lines of drugs and on most toilet goods are still reasonable and in many cases no advance whatever has been made. Our motto is—

"Quality Goods And Superior Service At Right Prices"

The story as seen through the film is one which O. Harry might be proud to have written. It is entirely without trite developments. Every incident is closely bound to every other; there are no forced climaxes or loose ends; everything coincidental or irrelevant has been carefully kept out, and the suspense is so well handled that no one can have the faintest idea, until the very last scene, as to whether the ending will be a happy one or a tragic. Eight Hundred Saloons Closed at Midnight.

NEW LAW A DRASIC ONE

Dispensaries Go Out of Business to the Chiming of Church Bells and Shouting and Singing of Dry Workers—Number of Brewers to Manufacture Horse Feed—Provisions of the Law.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 1.—Virginia is now a dry state, and the brewers are removing their big brew vats into receptacles for feed of various sorts.

In the big warehouses where line after line of heavy oak beer kegs have been stored are to be row after row of sacks of feed for horses and cattle.

Each state and county official faces the task of keeping his district immaculately clean from the pollution of rum, with the loss of his office as penalty if he fails. About 800 liquor dealers have closed their doors.

Every brewery in the state has arranged to engage in some industrial pursuit or has permanently given up business. Following the plan of the Porter Brewing company of this city, a number of breweries have arranged to manufacture horse and mule feed and such products. Hundreds of tons of grain will be used and a large part

IN INDIANA

Upholds Right of Travel and Right of Shipment.

Evansville, Ind., Nov. 1.—To audiences in Indiana Charles E. Hughes defined the platform on which he is running for president. Mr. Hughes said:

"Let us be true Americans, serving the welfare of the entire people, conserving the American honor, conserving American prosperity, building up the opportunities of labor and counting as our priceless heritage the fact that we do not do things by rule of armies and strength, but by the rule of reason in a community fair-minded and intent on justice. That is my platform, fellow-citizens. If you want my services, take me on that basis."

Mr. Hughes told a heckler at Columbus, Ind., that he was in favor of the maintenance of every American right "including the right of travel and the right of shipment." Mr. Hughes had been asked if he favored an embargo on munitions or the passage of a resolution by congress warning Americans off merchant ships flying the flag of belligerent nations.

Mr. Hughes at one point told his audience he wanted to see "America at peace," but that he did not want to be president of a country that did not have the old spirit of '76 and '61. "I would not want to be president of a country that thought more of dollars than of human lives," he added.

WITH HONORS

General Devol is from Ohio, and was appointed second lieutenant, Twenty-fifth United States infantry, Sept. 1, 1879.

Washington, Nov. 1.—In connection with the sinking of the British steamers Marina and Rowanmore, the German ambassador to the United States issued the following announcement: "There is no intention on the part of the German government of changing its submarine policy. Germany has every intention of keeping her pledges to the United States and there must be some explanation (of the sinking of the Marina). The boat must have tried to escape."

MEN FEEL TIRED, TOO.

While much is said about tired women it must be remembered that men also pay the penalty of overwork. When the kidneys are weak, inactive or sluggish, when one feels tired out and miserable, has the "blues," lacks energy and ambition. Foley Kidney Pills are tonic and strengthening. They act quickly. ## Prest. Wilson's Policy Of Neutrality.

This policy may not satisfy those who revel in destruction and find pleasure in despair. It may not satisfy the fire-eater or the swashbuckler. But it does satisfy those who worship at the Altar of the God of Peace. It does satisfy the Mothers of the land at whose hearth and fireside no jingoistic war has placed an empty chair. It does satisfy the daughters of this land from whom bluster and brag has sent no loving brother to the dissolution of the grave. If does satisfy the fathers of this land and the sons of this land who will fight for our Flag, and die for our Flag when Reason primes the rifle, when Honor draws the sword and Justice breathes a blessing on the standards they uphold.

SHARK KILLS FISHERMAN.

Florida Man's Leg Chewed Up by Monster Caught in a Net.

West Palm Beach.—J. L. Hanscom died in a hospital at Fort Pierce as the result of being attacked by a shark at Sewells point, near Palm Beach. He was assisting some fishermen in hauling in fishing net, when a large shark was found entangled in the meshes.

Hanscom jumped into the net and attempted to take the monster alive. In the struggle which followed the shark seized Hanscom's right leg and severely mangled it.

Hanscom was rushed to the hospital in an automobile by a party of tourists passing at the time. His lacerated leg was amputated, but he died a short time afterward from loss of blood.

This is the first known instance where any one has been attacked by sharks along this portion of the east coast, and even then the shark was drawn into the net beyond the bathing limits off the beach.

HADLEY FOR COURTESY.

Needed to Control America's Ambitions, He Tells Yale Men.

New Haven.—In welcoming the class of 1920 to Yale President Arthur T. Hadley told them that the future of the American republic depended on the manner in which the lessons of self-control, intelligence, courtesy and devotion were learned by the citizens of the republic and that as members of university they were in a position to master these qualities.

If America is to remain free, he said, self control enough to abolish police and tutors must be learned by its citizens. Self control, to master individual action; intelligence, to assure a democratic commonwealth; courtesy, as a check to the ambition of America as a world power, and devotion and unselfishness to Christian ideals are essentials for the nation, he declared.

HORSE DIGS UP PURSE.

Man Accused a Year Ago, but Was Not Indicted.

Beaver Falls, Pa.—A mystery of a year's standing has been cleared up. Recently Justice of the Peace W. H. McElvane of New Gallie received a pocketbook containing checks and railroad tickets from Mayor Christopher of Lisbon, O.

Last year Justice McElvane attended the Columbian county fair in Lisbon and reported to the authorities that his pocketbook had been stolen from his pocket.

Mrs. McElvane and a woman friend saw the thief take the pocketbook, and the following day the man was arrested in Smith's Ferry, Pa., Mrs. McElvane identifying him. The grand jury released the prisoner for lack of evidence.

A few days ago J. B. Lyther of Lisbon tied his horse to a post in the fair grounds. The horse dug up the pocket book.

Wolf Bounty Goes For Gasoline.

Superior, Wis.—A little auto and a hatchet sealed the doom of a timber wolf on a Douglas county road six miles from the city limits a few nights ago. Charles C. Wright of Ann Arbor Lake was driving home when he saw a wolf several hundred feet ahead. He speeded up his car, hit the wolf with the front axle and finally dispatched the animal with a hatchet. He got $20 bounty, which he says he will spend for "gas."

Gloria's Romance

by MR. and MRS. RUPERT HUGHES

Novelized From the Motion Picture Play of the Same Name by George Kleine

Copyright, 1916, by Adelaide M. Hughes

SYNOPSIS.

Pierpont Stafford, with his daughter Gloria, winters at Palm Beach. Gloria is a vivacious but willful young lady. Her childish capers cause your Doctor Royce to fall in love with her. Lost in the everglades she is captured by the Seminole Indians. Gloria falls in love with her rescuer, Frenneau. Five years later she leaves school and meets Frenneau at the theater; he has forgotten Gloria. Later Frenneau persuades her to forgive him. Gloria's sister-in-law, Lois, becomes intensely jealous. Frenneau goes sleighing with Gloria. It results in pneumonia for Gloria. Doctor Royce is summoned. Frenneau's finances being low, he approaches Pierpont Stafford. Lois threatens him with dire punishment. Her husband, Gloria's brother-in-law, becomes suspicious. Frenneau plans to have Mulry send Gloria a bunch of telegrams. Gloria sees from her window an attack made upon Frenneau. Doctor Royce convinces her it is delirium. Later, a telegram, followed by a letter, comes from Frenneau. She replies, but her telegrams are returned. She sees the supposed suicide of Frenneau reported in the paper. Gloria swears to find the murderer of her lover. Royce tells what he knows of Frenneau to Mr. Stafford. Together they seek to prevent scandal from enveloping Gloria. She accuses them in her mind of conspiracy against her. Gloria goes to David's country home. She meets Mulry, who flees at once. Gloria insists on going to Palm Beach. Again she sees Mulry there. He leaves for the North. She is recognized by her old-time captor, Judge Freeman, chief. He tells her that Royce and not Frenneau was her rescuer. Gloria attends night court; sees Mulry there, also the tramp who attacked Frenneau. But Judge Freeman releases him. She follows the tramp when he leaves the court, and falls into the hands of holdup men. She finds herself in a low saloon dance hall, and is selected by one of the patrons as his partner. Doctor Royce, however, follows, and when he attempts to rescue calls down a riot on their heads. The hall is raided and the crowd, including Gloria and Royce, is arrested and taken before Judge Freeman.

Mrs. Slattery rubbed off a chair with her apron and invited Gloria to rest with her, but Gloria went to Casimir's wife. The wretched woman clutched her hands and held them to her cheek, while Stas and Casimir both explained to her who Gloria was. They told her what miracles Gloria had performed and they plainly hoped for another, but Gloria was filled with a dread that money would be useless here. She promised glibly, but her heart felt helpless.

Doctor Royce came at last and she had some hope that he might redeem the life of the victim of life. He made his examination and spoke cheerfully enough, but Gloria was sure from his tone that he was lying, too. She led him out into the hall to question him. He shook his head gloomily. Gloria protested.

"But surely there must be some way to help her!"

"Not in this cavern," Doctor Royce insisted. "Of course if she were in the country somewhere—in the air under the sky—but what chance has she of that?"

That was so easy that Gloria laughed aloud. "Oh, if that is all, I'll furnish the air and the sky. I'll take them all up to our country place at once. You get them ready. I'll tell my father that we are expecting guests."

"But what will he say to—"

"What does it matter what he says?" said Gloria as she ran back into the dingy hall to scatter good news like flowers. She ordered Royce to attend to the details of transportation and hurried away to inform her father that she had invited three strangers to his country estate. Gloria's feet skipped down the stairway and she was humming as she stepped into the limousine and told the footman, "The office!"

The car started and was checked almost at once by a tangle of trucks. Gloria, looking about impatiently, caught sight of Nell Trask and her father just leaving the opposite tenement. She recognized the old man. She was dumfounded. As she gazed, they were lost in the crowd. She saw that the car could not be turned around. Every moment was precious. Impulse told her not to lose this precious chance. She obeyed impulse.

Without pausing to inform the chauffeur, Gloria opened the door, dropped out, and ran after the Trasks. She plucked them up again after a while. She saw a policeman. She resolved to order him to arrest the criminal. As she hesitated, she saw Trask stop and tenderly relieve the weary Nell of her baby's weight. He fondled and nuzzled the child and laughed with a grandfatherly foolishness. Gloria turned away from the policeman.

She followed at a little distance, wondering what to do. The best thing would be, she felt, to find out where he lived. She followed for blocks. The Trasks climbed the stairs of the elevated. Gloria went up after them. She took the next car on the same train. It seemed that they would ride on forever. Far up town they got out. Gloria got out. She trailed them at a greater distance now because the streets were sparsely populated. The street sloped sharply down to the river. Moored to the wharves where a number of huge, cumbrous barges. To one of these the Trasks clambered. They went down into it through a cabin door.

Gloria was in a plight. She had traced her fugitive to his home. But his home was about to move. A tough-looking tugboat with a tough-looking crew was already fastening a towline to the barge. There was no policeman in sight anywhere. The men loitering about the barges did not appeal to Gloria as desirable Samaritans to ask for help.

Another of Gloria's impulses stirred her feet almost against her will. She ran along the wharf, crossed a plank to the Trask barge, and went to the cabin hatchway. She heard voices of anger coming up. The girl was upbraiding her father for deserting her and accusing him of a further crime. She was crying hysterically.

"You killed him. He is dead and you killed him."

The old man denied the charge with frenzy. He laughed at it, swore that he was innocent. The girl was already persuaded and this so enraged Gloria that she darted down the steps and cried out at Trask:

"You did kill him. I saw you."

THEIR HONEYMOON IN JAIL.

Couple Awaiting Trial Occupy Different Cells.

Manitowoc, Wis.—There was a wedding at the county jail recently. George Boddy and Gertrude Vandenberg were arrested two weeks ago on a charge preferred by Chief Groffman and are awaiting trial. They were wedded by Justice of the Peace Adolph Schulze.

And they are spending their honeymoon with the sheriff.

The case against them is still pending, but will probably be dropped, and if they are able to raise the court costs and jail fees, amounting to close on $40, they will probably be released.

Boddy occupies a cell on the main floor, and his bride an upper tier cell.

Organize Junior Marine Scouts.

New York.—Eight hundred former United States boy scouts living on the west side of this city have formed an organization called the Junior Marine Scouts, for training in the duties of United States marines. The organization is in no way affiliated with the United States boy scouts, and plans are under way to make the body national in scope and character. The Junior Marine Scouts have taken up as their special plea to others that the training they will receive on land and sea is of greater benefit than either land or sea training taken separately. It's a two-in-one service—both naval and military—they argue, and they look to see the idea spread over the entire country.

VICTIMS OF SELF POISON ARE MANY

95 Per Cent of Illness Due to Auto-Toxicity.

WORLD'S SCIENTISTS AGREE

Health Expert Who Is Creating Excitement In Cincinnati by New Theories and Results With Modern Treatment Tells Terrors of "Intestinal Toxemia."

Cincinnati, O.—Ninety-five per cent of all ill health is directly or indirectly due to "intestinal toxemia," or, more commonly, just plain stomach and bowel trouble. It is a form of self-poisoning.

This statement was made here by the "Tanlac Health Expert," who has been creating much excitement by the remarkable results he is securing with a new medicinal treatment. He continued:

"When I say that 95 per cent of all human diseases, chronic and local, are directly due to mal-assimilation of food and fermentation in the intestinal tract I am not merely expressing a theory of my own, but I am propounding a fact that is agreed upon by the world's greatest medical and bacteriological scientists, of whom the famous Professor Metchnikoff, of the Pasteur Institute of Paris, is the leader.

"Intestinal toxemia, as the medical text-books call it, is the result of auto-toxicity—self-poisoning. It is caused by food rotting in the stomach and intestines, due to improper action of these organs and the presence of putrefactive bacteria. I quote the following symptoms of this ailment from a world-famous physician, as published in a leading medical journal:

"Sallow, bloodless, or ashy-gray, muddy complexion; foul, fecal, odorous breath; cold, clammy, moist hands and feet; headaches; malaise (dizziness); total lack of ambition, so that every effort in life is a burden; mental depression often bordering on melancholia; frequent attacks of indefinite abdominal pains due to flatulence; sudden attacks of acute diarrhea, alternating with periods of constipation."

"Medical books are jammed to overflowing with descriptions of ailments resulting from intestinal toxemia.

"Tanlac, the wonderful medicine I am introducing, was designed to overcome this condition with the kind of medicine that long usage has proved is safest for the human system—a soothing, effective combination of roots, herbs, barks and berries gathered from all over the world. That is the secret of its success in so many cases with varying surface symptoms.
